Architecture + Landscape

NMP (Niall Montgomery & Partners) is an award-winning architectural practice with over 70 years of experience across a wide range of projects, creating unique designs in tune with their context, cultural influences whilst re-imagining their client's vision. The firm specialises in landscape architectural services, that are managed by John Montgomery, and the more traditional architectural services are overseen by James Montgomery.

Niall and his son James founded the family practice in 1974, and it has since grown tremendously. The business started off in architecture before branching out into landscaping. Running a family business involves many duties and responsibilities especially in the constantly changing environment we live in today, from managing daily tasks to managing finances.

Effective cash flow management can aid family businesses in surviving, expanding, and passing on their legacy to the following generation.

We spoke to NMP about cashflow management and how they have managed to grow their family business throughout the years. One factor that has played a role in their business success is the fact that they were able to effectively manage their cash flow with the assistance of PromptPay. Maeve Walsh, Finance & Leasing Representative at AIB first introduced them to the product.

NMP told us how PromptPay allows their business to meet their tax obligations in a timely manner by spreading their payments over a course of 11 months.

They have used PromptPay for many years now and plan to continue using it for their business as they see the positive impacts that come with it. They added they would recommend it for other businesses for the following reasons;

“PromptPay allows a business to meet a relatively large outlay either in professional fees or tax obligations in a timely manner whilst aiding cash flow to ensure the smooth running of a business. The process for applying and obtaining the funds is very easy and hassle free with the help from our AIB representative.”
