

Current Interest Rates Per Annum

(Republic of Ireland)

Rates are correct as at: 4th July 2025

Calculation of Interest

Interest is calculated on the balance outstanding each day on accounts after adjustment is made for cheques and other items in course of collection to and from the particular branch in which the account is held. Interest is, therefore, not necessarily calculated on the daily balance of the account as shown on the customer's statement. The adjustment will reflect the actual time at which value will have been given or obtained by the customer's branch for items drawn on or lodged to the account. Lodgements of domestic euro cheques drawn on a financial institution in the Republic of Ireland may take up to five business days to clear. Postal Orders and cheques drawn on UK and other foreign banks take considerably longer to clear. The interest rate shown on your account statement is the rate used to calculate interest on your account. When the interest rate changes, the new interest rate applies on the day of the change and on subsequent days and is displayed on your account statement.

Set-off Interest

Customers are reminded that set-off interest may arise where the customer has two or more current accounts, one with a credit balance and the other with an overdrawn balance. The Bank may, at its discretion, allow interest set off between those accounts. Where it does so, interest will be charged at 1% per annum on any debit balance set off against any credit balance. In all other circumstances, usual interest and related charges will apply. Where there are interest set-off arrangements in place, credit interest, where applicable, will only be paid on the net credit balance.

Lending Risk

In circumstances where the element of risk attaching to a proposition is in excess of the normal acceptable level, the Bank may quote a rate higher than the published rate. If ancillary charges are incurred as a direct result of a loan agreement, the APR quoted will be higher.

For information on how to reduce your borrowing charges, please refer to A Guide to Fees and Charges for Personal Accounts, available in all AIB branches.

Home Mortgages

- The Bank may quote a rate higher than the published rates where the lending is for the purchase or refinance of Buy-to-Let Residential property(ies) where the customer's total Buy-to-Let borrowings from AIB exceed €2 million.
